

West Virginia Broadcasters Association

Sports Producer

Jobs in Broadcasting ,United States

Job Description

Gold and Blue Nation is seeking an enthusiastic, driven Sports Producer to coordinate our robust and exclusive suite of WVU Sports television programming. Interested candidates must submit a resume and cover letter with their application. Please include a link to demo material showcasing ability to produce engaging sports programming.

Gold and Blue Nation is a growing, flourishing brand that creates big-market content while working in the family atmosphere of a small market. Our organization is an extension of the WVBOY newsroom and creates daily WVU sports content for Nexstar TV stations across the Mountain State. You'll work in the friendly, blossoming community of Morgantown, while also partnering with dedicated teammates who together possess 20 years of experience covering the Mountaineers. This year, our organization was lauded by the Virginias Associated Press Broadcasters as the Outstanding Sports Operation of the Virginias.

We offer excellent benefits including paid vacations, holidays and personal days, 80 hours sick leave with pay per year, health insurance plans, Health Savings and Flexible Spending Accounts, 401K Retirement Plan, paid parental leave, dental, vision, Teledoc, behavioral health services, prescription drug coverage, life insurance plans, paid short term disability, free gym membership, and many more benefit options. In addition, this position offers a flexible schedule during summer months when the Mountaineers aren't competing. The compensation package for this position will be based on experience.

This is a strictly behind-the-scenes position. Applicants should provide a demo reel showcasing the ability to edit and produce entertaining and informative TV programming. Experience with both live and recorded studio programming is a plus. Candidates interested in working on camera need not apply.

Position Summary

The Sports Producer will work directly with the Executive Producer to execute Gold and Blue Nation's suite of exclusive sports programming, which airs on five Nexstar stations and a regional sports network. On WVU gamedays, our programming reaches more than 3 million TV homes.

The Sports Producer is tasked with enterprising, creating and executing a sports program from start to end. The Sports Producer will coordinate interviews, write scripts and capture and edit content for the following shows: The Rich Rodriguez Show (football season) The Ross Hodge Show (basketball season) and The WVU Coaches Show (baseball season).

The Sports Producer will also produce weekly live episodes of Mountaineer GameDay, the only live WVU Sports pregame show on television, airing during football and basketball season. For a live event, the Sports Producer will coordinate live shots with reporters, toggle between studio cameras and live feeds, ensure the airing of all sponsored breaks and guide talent throughout the broadcast via communication on a party line.

Additionally, the Sports Producer will capture video and photo content in the field during games, press conferences and other events. That content will be used on multiple platforms, including in specialty programming, in daily TV reports, on social media and on GoldAndBlueNation.com.

The ideal candidate for this role must be a sports fan! The Sports Producer must possess a deep understanding of WVU Athletics and Mountaineer fans. They should be a quick decision maker, as every second counts on a live broadcast. They must be a person who thrives under pressure for extended periods of time. In the case of non-live content, the Sports Producer must possess the creative ability to curate and condense several hours of footage and content into a short format show of 30 or 60 minutes, tailoring that content to the interest of fans watching throughout Mountaineer Nation.

Position Responsibilities

- Script, shoot and edit weekly episodes of The Neal Brown Show, The Bob Huggins Show and The WVU Coaches Show
- Live produce episodes of Mountaineer GameDay, airing Saturday mornings during football and basketball season
- Work with management to deliver a content mix that best serves Mountaineer fans
- Shoot highlights at select WVU sports events
- Shoot photos and video as needed to tell stories in more compelling ways
- Edit video and generate closed captions using Adobe Premiere
- Edit photos using Adobe Photoshop
- Edit audio for The Gold and Blue Nation Podcast using Adobe Audition
- Manage and organize our archive of WVU sports video and photos
- Ability to perform other duties as needed

Skill/ Experience Requirements

- This is an entry level position; professional experience as a TV sports producer is a plus, but not a requirement
- Enjoys collaborating with others and is a strong communicator
- Must be a strong and efficient script writer and video editor
- Must understand the basics of sports ENG, including using a camera and tripod, shooting highlights, shooting photos, capturing press conferences, etc.
- Ability to adapt and learn new things quickly
- Ability to curate, condense and prioritize content for a 30 or 60-minute sports show
- Understand social media's importance in promoting our brand and content

- Must be willing to work nights and weekends — when the Mountaineers play, we're there
- Knowledge of AP style
- Must possess proficiency with Adobe Premiere, Audition and Photoshop, as well as Microsoft Office software

About Us: Gold and Blue Nation, an extension of the WBOY Newsroom, is the most unique local TV sports operation in the nation.
